The 7475 was the most popular pen plotter ever made. It was not obsoleted until 1994, an amazing 11 year product life. At a fraction of the price and with better performance, the 7475A was a major advance over the 9872C that it replaced. Though it carried two pens fewer than the 9872C (which held eight pens), this was of little significance to ...
